Presentation

To desire knowledge is na more to be educated than to want to be a bird is to fly. Knowledge must not only be accumulated but assimilated, integrated and applied before one can be accorded the compliment, "He is an educated man."

Accumulated knowledge is ovailable in textbooks. Assimilation and integration come under the guidonce of our understanding professors. Application, however, requires that same higher purpose motivates us—something not found in any textbook nor communicated through any other person.

In the looser sense of the word, a college is for education and to be a college graduate is to be educated. To accept this statement at face value, however is to deceive aneself, for not every college leads its student body to a saurce of higher purpose that motivates application of their knowledge in a useful manner.

Olivet Nazarene College for fifty-eight years has stood for the best of oll that is implied in the word education. The academic training it offers its students under the training of dedicated educators complements the finest mind. The physical environment necessary for formal study is under constant improvement. But more than these mere structural components of an educational institution, Olivet has incorporated into its program, the basic ingredient of true education, a motivating purpose. This is reflected in the college motto, "Education with a Christian Purpose."

In the painting by Rockwell Smith Brank, Assistant Professor of Fine Arts, which is on the facing page, a professor gestures toward the paraphernalia of study in the various fields but points toward the Cross of Calvary as the ultimate inspiration. Olivet, also, provides opportunity for study in all areas and in the same manner designates the Cross as the most essential aspect of the truly educated personality.

The Christian philosophy of education maintains that education should enable the Christian to attain a position from which he will have a greater influence for Christ than would have been possible otherwise. This is the philosophy behind the motto, "Education with a Christian Purpose."

This, then, is the motivation that Olivet Nazarene College supplies its graduates. This distinguishes education from accumulated knowledge. To the Christian, being able to influence others for Christ is the highest ideal.

Therefore, in humility and devotion, let us dedicate this book, The 1965 Aurora, to the ideal, "Education With a Christian Purpose."

Prologue

On the following pages, you will be introduced to Olivet Nazarene College—a callege which believes wholeheartedly in its motto, "Education with a Christian Purpose". Ours is a college which traces its beginning to Georgetown, Illinois, where in 1907 a group of dedicated Christian laymen determined to establish a school where children could be not only educated but presented with the eternal truths of Christianity and Holiness. The year following its beginning it was expanded and moved three miles south to the site of what is now the town, Olivet, Illinois. Shartly thereafter, the initial founders, including two brothers named Nesbitt, whose sister Mary became the first teacher, were forced through financial pressure to give up the enterprise or go bankrupt. Searching for a group to carry on their established purpose, these men were pleased to offer their school to the relatively young Nazarene Pentecostal Church. The Church continued the building program which had recently been instituted. By 1939, the plant consisted of five brick structures and several frame buildings on a fourteen acre campus. In that year, the college was again threatened with annihilation, this time by fire. The administration building which had housed classrooms, the library, laboratories, offices and the chapel was destroyed. Once again, though, the leaders of our callege trusted in the promise. ". . . all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to His purpose (Romans 8:28)." Under the leading of divine inspiration, they were made aware of the possibility and necessity for expansion which would be most difficult in that location.

Ninety miles to the north in Bourbonnais, Illinois St. Viator's College was also undergaing financial difficulties. With little more than faith in their God, the administration contracted to buy St. Viator's.

The problems facing Olivet since 1940 when that purchase was made have been no less complex than they were in Olivet's earlier years. Financial difficulties have arisen. The need far immediate expansion had to be met. The problem of a student body too large for its facilities, has plagued Olivet from the first. Finally, in the spring of 1963, a devastating tarnado struck our campus, damaging Burke Administration Building, Walker Hall, Greer Greenhouse, the smokestack, the Health Center, Miller Dining Hall, Birchard Field House, and almost completely demolishing Trailerville. A million dollars in school property, and hundreds of thousands of dollars of personal property was destroyed in less than thirty seconds. Yet, Olivet remains strong and true to the principles upon which it was founded. Established to provide its student body with an education in a distinctively Christian atmosphere, it remains dedicated to its motto, "Education with a Christian Purpose."

Of Our Campus Setting...

And the Perseverance

Large cranes, piles of dirt, stacks of blocks and bricks, huge I-beams, helmeted workmen are some of the 1964-65 sights on Olivet's campus. So, the roads are a bit muddy and messy? These are the evidences of progress at Olivet, inspiration to those who love her.

Most important among the new buildings and most expensive, is the new Harold W. Reed Science Building, for which some $1,175,000 has been pledged. It is sure to prove an inestimable boom to the Division of Natural Sciences upon its completion.

Wark on the new College Student Center, to be named after a noteworthy Olivetian, the late S. T. Ludwig, has also progressed very rapidly. In this building the new cafeteria, post office, and student offices will be located. The students are looking forward to great times in this splendid new center.

A new floor was laid in the gymnasium during the summer of 1964, giving the athletic department improved facilities. And, last but not least, the $75,000 Leist Chapel, and annex extending College Church to the North and making it cruciform was started in the fall and completed during the early spring season. It will relieve the overcrawded conditions, particularly during revivals and on special accasions; will serve as a chapel for smaller services; and will furnish much-needed classroom space and new church offices. PROGRESS is the word at Olivet today, and the school is attempting to make this campus one of which all Nazarenes can be justly and humbly proud.

Of Campus Construction,

Burke Administration Building

Bustling with activities, Chalfant Hall, Burke Administration Building, and College Church are used in various important capacities.

Although it is the newest building on campus, Chalfant Hall has already paid for itself. It performs multiple tasks. Chapel services are held there four days each week, allowing each student a daily period of religious exercise. The sounds of intramural activities, lyceums, concerts, and parties also echo throughout this building on many nights during the year.

Rushing to their classes, most students fail to realize the importance of Burke. Completely remodeled after the tornado severely damaged it, it has taken on a bright appearance. The classrooms, newly decorated, are located on the third and fourth floors. The second floor contains the Chapel office Recital Hall, and the Prayer Band room. On the first floor the most important administrative offices are located. Pictures of the general superintendents are hung on fourth floor forming a Hall of Superintendents.

Chalfant Hall

Centers of Intellectual And Spiritual Growth.

Callege Church of the Nazarene

Equally, if not more important, is College Church. Expanding to meet the needs of the college, College Church this year built a new annex, Leist Chapel. It is at College Church that the students come to receive spiritual guidance. Dr. Forrest W. Nash, the pastor, is always available to counsel a student. Many a student's spiritual problems have been solved through one of our minister's inspiring sermons. After leaving the church, the collegian is ready to face life's many vicissitudes.

Each of these buildings serves the school in three ways—religiously, academically, and socially.

Located within a few feet of each other are two of the most important buildings on campus, Birchard Field House and Miller Dining Hall. Within their walls many of the social functions of Olivet are held.

"Get that ball! Get that ball!" is one of the familiar shouts that can be heard coming from Birchard Field House throughout the year. This two-story building fulfills many useful functions. Its use as the headquarters of the Physical Education department is one of its main purposes. Locker facilities for both men and women, the offices of Coaches, and several classrooms are all located here. The gym's most active season is the winter. During this time, the gym is crowded with many anxious spectators who are routing their society on to victory. When special activities are not scheduled, the gym is open for free play.

The Wagon Wheel is a recreational room where students can play ping pong whenever they become tired of studying. During the basketball season, refreshments can be obtained here.

The physic's lab and classroom are located in the front of the building. You can see why Birchard Field House is nearly always in use.

Greer Green House

Miller Dining Holl

Edifices of Specialized Services.

Miller Dining Hall, a one-story brick building, located near the gym, serves as the student cafeteria. In the rear of the building is located the Mural Room, an excellent place for club banquets. When a banquet is too large for the Mural Room, the main dining area is pressed into service.

The green house, situated in the same building as the health clinic, houses specimens for the use of the botany students.

Memorial Library

The Setting of Academic Pursuits . . .

Flierman Hall

Memorial Library is one of the mast important buildings on campus. Many students do much of their studying in this building. Since its opening in 1957, the library has added many new volumes to its already numerous collection. On the moin floor are located the check out desk and most of the newspapers and current periodicals.

The ground floor contains back issues of the periodicals and the music listening room. This is where music majors prepare certain assignments.

On the second floor, in the reserved book area, most students work on term papers and reports, using books that can not be checked aut of the library. A classroom for instruction in library science and a microfilm room are also located an this floor.

Flierman Hall is a one story building, located down the road fram the Ad Building. This brown building houses classrooms and several student offices. Within these walls, the AURORA and the GLIMMERGLASS are planned and published. The offices of the Associated Students are also located in this building. Although one of the older buildings on the campus, Flierman has served Olivet for many years and holds many memories for students.

Goadwin Hall

In Goodwin Hall are housed the many practice rooms which are of aid to music majors. This building offers a fine opportunity for the music major to become well advanced in his specific instrument.

Every doy many students cross the street and journey to the home of the music center.

Not only does Goodwin house mony practice rooms, but it also provides many studios where students can obtain private lessons.

Goodwin is one of the many assets of Olivet Campus.

The Home Economics Building provides a tremendous opportunity for many young girls to become familiar with the various ways of making foods attractive and nourishing.

Girls often go to the Home Economics building to practice on their skills and to bake such things as cokes, and other foods. A fine chance to become a great cook is offered in this building.

A landmark and symbal stands near many campus buildings.

And Cultural Advancements

Williams Hall

Our Housing . . .

Williams Hall

Jackie plans ahead for tanight's date.

Erected in 1951, and still in fine condition is Willioms Hall, the freshmen girls dormitory.

It is now bursting at its seams with 214 girls in residence. As a young lady enters, she is confronted with an attractive receptionist who takes all messages and phone calls.

Just to the right of the desk there is a carpeted stairway that may lead her to an ofternoon or evening of relaxation in the parlor with its French and Itolian decor.

Descending through a narrow stairway she enters a small but convenient kitchenette, where many parties for the residents begin and end.

Down the hall a little further is another popular place where girls congregate to plan their diet schedule—the snack machines.

Adjocent to the kitchenette is the overworked laundry room. After woiting a considerable length of time, the fortunate freshman gets her turn of a wosher and dryer.

Though the day may be filled with frustrations and problems, there always should be time for her prayer and private devotions in the small, quiet prayer room.

Returning to her room, the student discusses the latest news with her roommate and other friends. While they are in the middle of this deep conversation, Mrs. Olson, the House Director, rings the bell signifying that it is 11:00 p.m.—time to end the doy's activities.

Kathy and Judy take a moment far relaxation.

Nesbitt Hall . . .

Nesbitt Hall

Houses Co-eds

Answering the phane at Nesbitt can be a busy job.

As one of the newest buildings on campus, Nesbitt Hall, accommodates 151 sophomore and junior ca-eds. The parlar is the meeting place for all the girls and their dates. It's modern decor adds to the friendly atmosphere of the hall. In the efficient kitchen, adjoining the T.V. room, a dinner can be prepared for that special guy.

On second floor, the convenient prayer room provides a place where the girls can solve their prablems in prayer. Here they receive spiritual help when needed. The dorm has an apartment for the House Directors, Mr. and Mrs. Boone, plus Nesbitt's mascot Wendy, the Boones' pet dog.

The rooms provide a quiet atmosphere for studying or just having a little chat with the girls from down the hall.

All rooms are pointed light pastel shades and equipped with modern furniture. Many happy times can be recalled by the girls who share these rooms.

The building is surrounded by evergreens and flowers which add to the dorm's attractiveness.

In the rear of the hall is a large parking lat provided as a convenience for the residents.

Margie and Pam get ready to meet their special guys.

Moin North

Main North

In the basement of Main North is found the kitchen and T.V. room where the girls may entertain the guys, with permission, on Tuesday nights.

On first floor, the House Director's apartment is located. Also on this floor is the parlor, study area, and two bedrooms.

Five bedrooms and two full baths are on second floor. Here seven girls out of the eighteen live.

On the third flaor there are three bedrooms. Also here is a study area that the girls may use anytime they want.

The girls that live here find it very comfortable any time of day.

Miss Hall is always available for the girls if they need any help or if they just need someone to talk to.

Main South

Home for seventeen senior girls, and house mother, Genevine Norton, is 397 Main Street, purchased from John and Lora Donoho in the summer of 1964 for offcampus housing.

Until 20 years ago, the house was occupied by the family of Mose Legris, who built the house in 1872.

The house, since the Legris's lived there, hos been occupied by Gabriel Ryrouoc, former village president; Harold Boudreau, village collector; and Horold Gillespy, who operated a pizza house there.

Downstairs, in the house, there is a kitchen, bath, a small parlor, the House Director's apartment, and three dorm rooms.

Upstoirs are the rest of the dorm rooms. Here the girls can get together for a chat, or for a chance to have a few quiet moments away from the rush of the doy.

This lodging, commonly called "South Main," should not be canfused with 380 Main across the street, which houses underclassmen girls.

Eurela Brown, Director of the Home Economics program, enjoys showing her collection of cut glass.

This house is located just off the Olivet Campus. Remodeled in 1955, it now serves as the Home Management House.

The Home Economics majors live here for eight weeks in their senior year. Here they eat most of their meals and take turns with the responsibilities.

Either being hostess, food manager or house-keeper is their jobs. These girls entertain bath students and adults as a part of the program. Their main objective is to learn about human relations and management.

Mrs. Brown, the director, helps the girls with any problems they might have and helps them to adjust to any changes that have to be made.

Hardin House

Wright Designed . . .

Hardin House is a home away from home for 16 senior girls. Located on the main road northeast of the college, it rings with excited voices of the girls.

On the main floor is a kitchen, where the girls can fix a quick snack; the House Director's apartment; and a parlor, used by the girls to entertain their guys or to relax.

The girls' rooms are found on second floor. Here they can enjoy quietness from the rush of the campus.

"Every convenience a home can offer is provided for the girls," says Mrs. Kyer, House Director. Just being considerate of one another insures keeping what rules they have.

At least once every month the girls manage to have a get-together for a season of fellowship, where they take time from their tiring schedules to discuss campus doings and goings.

Senior Houses North

Senior Houses North

Four houses make up Senior Houses North. Each house is made up of four rooms housing five girls, with one containing a bosement for storage purposes. The house director's apartment has a kitchen which is for use by all the girls, and the parlor where guests may be entertained.

Activities and regulations are like those of the other off-campus housing units. Two sophomores and twenty-seven seniors comprise the students housed in Senior Houses North.

Mrs. Robbins, house director, prepares a quick lunch.

Linda assures Donna that dishes can be fun.

As finals begin Judy, Lindo, and Sharon procrastinate the inevitable.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick, House Director, welcomes guests to the portor.

Senior Houses South provides housing for twenty-five juniors and older freshmen girls.

Each apartment has a similar layout, containing a study area and two bedrooms. A parlor for entertaining friends, a prayer room for devotions, a storage area, and a kitchen in the house director's apartment are for the convenience of all the girls.

Activities in Senior Houses South is much like that of the oncampus housing, except that the co-eds are allowed senior privileges.

localities with many different en-Chapmon Hall, vironments. named for Dr. J. B. Chapman, General Superintendent of the Church of the Nozarene, serves as the residence for nearly two hundred freshmen and sophomore men. Religious, academic, and social activities are each vital in the life of every guy. Located on the third floor is the prayer chapel which is open at all times. Since this is callege, the emphasis is put on studying. Yet, because of the friendly fellowship that can be found in nearly every room, life is never dull. Here it is that many lifelong friendships are started. The book store, post office, and student center all are located in the basement of Chopman Holl. The snack shop, commonly called the Universe by the students, is the hub of Olivet's college life. Here students come to meet their friends and to chat about the daily happenings. Here each student anxiously awaits the orrival of his mail at the post office. This is his chief means of communication with home. As readily can be seen, Chapman Hall not only serves Olivet as a residence for freshmen, but also serves the school in various other capacities.

Bill and Charley spend a few morning moments to keep spruced up and appealing for the triendly temale freshmen.

Hills, the newest dorm on campus, the home of 192 saphomore, junior, and senior boys is situated south of the Quadrangle.

The boys may socialize in the parlor, or may engage in a game of ping-pong in the recreation room in the basement.

On second floor is the prayer room, ta which many of the boys resort for private devotions.

The T.V. room located on third floor, is the most popular place in the dorm.

Although studying is the main objective of most of the boys, a friendly get-together in someone's room is always welcomed. All phone calls to the fellows are received at the desk on the main floor. Also on main floor is the House Director's office and apartment. "Mac", as he is popularly called, has been residence counselor at Hills for three years.

The rooms are nicely furnished and well-arranged. The fellows can add their own personal touch for comfort and a friendly atmosphere.

On all floors is a small room used by the boys for a lounge. Here they may relax after the day's routine.

Leaving Hills by the side way, one encounters two stone benches which adds to the modern appearance of the dorm.

Comfortable Accommodations

Many married students live in Reedy Apartments.

The married students are very much needed an the campus of Olivet. These students take part in many of the activities that take place during the year, plus keeping up with school wark and housewark.

Increasing mare and more each year as the averall school enrollment grows, the married students became mare and mare important each year.

Very comfortable wherever they may live, Olivet's married students are good warkers and work hard at bettering our campus bath spiritually and academically.

They live in many an-campus housing units, which include Elm Park, Gl Ville, Reedy Apartments, and Trailorville. Also, many live in private apartments and hauses.

PROFILE OF LIVING

Etto and Linda pause for a moment of meditation.

Church, Chapel, Prayer Band, Evangels: All of these ore important, but nothing con take the place af individual devotions.

Some time each day, the student needs to get alone somewhere with God and search his own heart, pray, and study his Bible. Without this devotional period, little benefit can be obtained from these other times of spiritual uplift.

There is a prayer room provided for this in each of the dormitories. A small room is set aside where the student can be alone with God, away from the hustle and bustle of campus life.

The prayer rooms are much frequented by students striving to deepen their Christian experience

"Take Time To Be Holy"

Often, the prayer room is used for counseling.....

Robert Hale, professor of music at Eastern Nazarene Callege, presents a farmal concert.

Jim Manck, Prayer Band president, gives an intraductory speech for a visiting speaker.

"Speak Oft With Thy Lord"

"Let's go to prayer band tonight." This phrase can be heard almost any Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, or Friday night throughout the school year. As one of the most active organizations on Olivet's campus, Student Prayer Band offers a place of voluntary communion with God, through songs, testimonies, speakers, and prayer.

The main emphasis of this year's programming has been the fulfillment of that which is implied in the name—that of banding together in intercessory prayer that the Holy Spirit might come upon faculty, staff, and students alike in a Pentecostal revival. Truly the officers have endeavored to follow our quadrennial theme and work in the "power of the Spirit".

It has not been unusual to see the altar of Kelly Prayer Chapel filled with students seeking God's will in their lives. Time after time the Holy Spirit has come upon the service in such a manner that young people have without an invitation made their way to the altar for prayer.

Student Prayer Band has this year reached out in its endeavors to supply spiritual help, and spansored activities outside of the usual four meetings a week. It has spansored all-school films, and in January 1965 it brought Mr. Bill Pearce to campus for a sacred concert.

We have been fortunate to have the capable leadership of Mr. James Monck, president; Mr. Kenneth Jackman, song leader; and Professor R. L. Lunsford, faculty sponsor; along with the rest of the executive council. It has been their desire to keep prayer band an active factor in the spiritual life of Olivet Nazarene College.

Paul Orjala presented a piana solo.

Once a day, four days a week, all of the activity on Olivet's campus stops, and everyone, students and professors alike, gather in Chalfant Hall for a half hour of spiritual up-lift.

This time of spiritual up-lift is another aspect of "Education with a Christian Purpose."

The carillon, chiming hymns, can be heard over the entire campus and calls everyone to chapel. The carillon chiming outside and the organ playing inside bring a spirit of reverence into everyone's heart. The "Americana Carillon" is a gift from Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Leist. The carillon was presented and dedicated in the Hamecoming chapel service.

The programs of the chapel services are varied and many different groups and speakers participate in the programs. The programs vary from revival services to concerts. Many of the students participate, both by providing music and by speaking.

This chapel service is a refreshing time in the middle of a busy day. As each person leaves chapel, he feels more prepared to meet whatever the rest of the day holds for him.

College Church during construction of the new wing

College Church . . . Vital Message for College and Community

A center of spiritual and religious activities at Olivet, and a building in which many have made and affirmed spiritual commitments, is the College Church.

Dr. Nash, ossisted by Rev. Gould and numerous faithful laymen, leads the congregation of students, faculty, staff, and community people in worshipping together in the freedom of the Spirit.

In striving to keep pace with the rapid growth of the student body and congregation, College Church this year has built a new addition, housing a new transcept section for the sanctuary and additional classroom space.

Many Olivetians have fond memories of this "spiritual home away from home."—memories of conviction, surrender, commitment, inspiration, and Christian fellowship. Three great series of revival meetings—Foll, Youth Week and Spring—were held in College Church. The spiritual light, enrichment, and uplift continue to be felt among the members of the Olivet Family. May College Church, and all churches where the Gospel of Jesus Christ is preached, always be instruments through which God can work His Will.

Rev. Forrest W. Nash.

Rev. William Fisher brings a message during the fall revival

The revivals on Olivet's campus are very much looked forward to by the students. These revivals seem to come just when the spirit is logging and they are most needed.

The annual fall revival began on Sunday, October 4 and extended through the next Sunday with evangelist Dr. William Fisher of Kansas City, Missouri. Services were held each morning in chapel and each evening in the College Church.

Many victories were won among the students and much encouragement was received from Dr. Fisher's inspiring message.

Revival . . .

A Challenge To All

On Wednesday, January 27, Rev. Boyd C. Hancock came to us for our Youth Revival. Rev. Hancock of Conway, Arkansas is the superintendent of the North Arkansas district.

The services were held each night for the remainder of the week, closing on Sunday night.

This Youth revival was also a time of inspiration and encouragement, a time in which many souls found victory at an altor of prayer.

These revivals encouraged the students and faculty, and gove them courage to go on in their Christian walk.

Paul Orjala presents a pragram during chapel on the Seminary's missionary studies.

Missionary Band . . .

"Go Ye Into All The World"

The purpose of the Missionary Band is to create and maintain a strong missionary emphasis on the campus af Olivet. Olivet students hear the call of God through special speakers and programs spansored by the Missionary Band. The need for dedicated young people in every occupatian is stressed continually. The Missionary Band believes that world missions is the "heart" af the Church of the Nazarene. It is the goal of every member to stand prayerfully by with a prepared heart and mind listening for the call of God.

Each year the Missionary Band sponsors a special project. This year it was the establishment of a church in Stockholm, Sweden. Our gaal was $3,000. An annual missionary workshop, sponsored by the Missionary Band, was also a part of the year's program. The Reverend Mr. and Mrs. Morgan from Beirut Lebanon, were our guest speakers. The entire student body was challenged by the messages and testimonies of the Morgan's.

Many returned missionaries and officials from the Department of World Missions are heard throughout the year by the members of the faculty and student body. College Church was the host of the Regional Missionary Conference, this year, with Dr. E. S. Phillips and three missionaries as speakers, March 15 and 16.

It is the hope of every Christian that God will continue to call large numbers of Olivet students, as He has in the past, for the unfinished task of world missions.

Darrell presents Dr. Reed with the check for the special project.

John tries to get some students to join Evangels on Club Day.

Olivetians have an outlet for Christian service and witness through the Evangels. Each Sunday afternoon the Evangels give their time to spread the gospel. The club's activities this year included the establishment of gospel meetings in downtown Kankakee, visitation at nine rest homes each Sunday, and sponsorship of lectures on "The Role of the Aged in the Church, Community, and the Warld." In the Spring, the Evangels sponsored a Senior Citizen Camp at the District Camp Center. All in all, Evangels has striven to uphold the Bible scripture found in Matthew 25:40, "In as much as ye have done it unto me."

Evangels . . .

Service Through Visitation

Members of Evangels meet on the corner in Iront of the library before going visiting.

Dr. Paul Updike, District Superintendent of the Northeastern Indiana District delivered lectures to students and faculty March 4 and 5, 1965.

The biennial lectures are sponsored by the Division of Religion and Philosophy. Dr. Updike spoke four times to the students along the line of "Christian Perfection and Evangelical Faith". He spoke to the faculty of the Division of Religion and Philosophy on the subject, "Educational Philosophy of the Church of the Nazarene" and conducted a question and answer period. Dr. Updike is Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Olivet Nazarene College, and is a member of the General Board of the Church.

A series of religious lectures by Dr. Mel Thomas Rothwell was also presented to the students. Dr. Rothwell is a professor at Bethany Nazarene College, in the Department of Philosophy. Dr. Rothwell earned his A.B. degree at the University of Ohio, his A.M. at the University of Michigan, and his Ph.D. at Boston University. He has been an author, evangelist, and a camp meeting president.

The lectures were well attended and of special interest to ministerial students and full time Christian workers.

Many classes are dismissed far religious lectures.

Team Number One of the Ambassadors was under the direction of Dr. H. T. Reza, Director of our Nazarene Spanish Broadcast. The song evangelist was Ray Moore.

We flew, first, to San Antonio, Texas, where we held a service.

On July 1, we flew into Mexico. The team divided into three groups and held services in and around Monterrey. My first night in Mexico, I preached in a mission church that had no roof. Our days were spent in calling, holding school and jail services, and, of course, practicing, and joining in prayer sessions. A Sunday-through-Sunday crusade was held in the city of Monterrey, under the ministry of Dr. C. William Fisher, evangelist.

On the way to Guatemala City, we held one service in Mexico City.

The team spent two days in our Guatemala City churches. Then, we divided into two teams and covered the villages in the rural areas. We conducted our crusade in Guatemala in Coban. We also held services in our schools and public schools. The team even played the local junior college team in basketball.

We spent a day in Panama City, Panama and a day in Caracus, Venezuela on our way to Trinidad.

In Trinidad, we divided into teams of two and spread out through the island. In the city of Portof-Spain, we held a Sunday-through-Sunday cursade with Dr. M. Kimber Moulton as the evangelist. Here we won over 150 converts.

The work of the Ambassadors now has ended as a team and yet has only begun.

For all God has done and for all we believe He will do in the future through this program we say, "To God be the Glory, great things He hath done."

Ambassadors . . .

Crusaders for Christ

My first Spanish service was a thrill. My heart filled with joy as I heard the fellow sitting beside me lustily singing praises to God in his own native tongue. I could feel a power stronger than that of his deep bass voice. I praised God for His presence in the service and in the hearts of those who were singing.

One reason for sending the Nozarene Evangelistic Ambassadors was to see young people won to Christ and to encourage the Christian young folks to grow in their faith toward God and in the church. Both of these purposes were accomplished, but I believe that the Ambassadors were encouraged by our foreign young people. They took Christian living seriously and I learned a lesson from these Nazarenes in other lands.

The young people in British Guiana, for example, prayed and fasted from early morning till late afternoon for the service. They did everything in their power to be witnesses for Christ.

This trip impressed upon me more than ever before the high quality of leadership in the Church of the Nazarene. One of the greatest blessings of the trip was the impact made upon my life by such godly leaders as Rev. Orjala, Rev. Johnston, Dr. Moulton, Jim Bohi, and a host of Spirit-filled missionaries.

One of the highlights of this trip was seeing people saved the very first time that they heard the gospel preached. I had to proise God again for giving me so many opportunities to hear the gospel that one-half the world has yet to hear.

Academic

What is college? College is the students, faculty, and administrators working together toward the goal of a higher education. Olivet's goal is not only to offer an education, but to offer an education with a Christian purpose.

Four classes, with some 1,450 students make up Olivet's student body. Each student may be a member of a club or organization and participate in athletics or other activities as a part of his college life.

All student activities are ordered and directed by the college. Far reaching plans and policies are established by the Board of Trustees. The administration implements these plans.

Working under the administration are the faculty members. The academic program is divided into six divisions: Language and Literature, Education and Psychology, Social Science, Natural Science, Fine Arts, and Religion.

Board of Trustees . . .

Dr. Eckley hands his financial report, which he has just given, to Dr. Galloway.

The Board of Trustees of Olivet Nazarene College is the legislative board made up of elected representatives from the fifteen districts of the Central Education Zone. Also serving on the board are representatives from the Alumni Association and the President of the College. The board meets semi-annually in February and May. Accepting full responsibility for the school, it determines the policies of the college. This year the Board is composed of forty-four members.

The main issue brought before the Board this year was inter-collegiate sports. Other things that were considered were a tighter budget, several academic promotions, general campus improvements, and an increase in faculty salaries.

They viewed the progress of the science building and the college center and decided that the new science building will be called the Reed Hall of Science, in honor of the man who has directed Olivet's destinies for fifteen years, and that the new student building will be designated Ludwig Center, to insure the remembrance of a prominent Olivetian, S. T. Ludwig, for many years the denomination's general secretory.

The Board awarded o contract for the construction of two new buildings on the campus, designed to house about fifty students each.

Dr. Reed gives his annual report to the Board.

Two members of the Board discuss on issue between sessions.

A COMMITTED CHRISTIAN COLLEGE

The field of Christian Higher Education presents a challenge today that is unparalleled in American History.

First, we are dealing with a rising tide of young people on the national level who are seeking higher education. Among this surging throng of young people, there is a great host of select youth, who desire the kind of an education that is provided at Olivet Nazarene College.

Second, the elimination or dilution of Christian and moral teachings, plus the standards and influence in much of secular education, gives new significance to a deeply committed church college. Moreover, the prevailing secularism and crass materialism of our day, tends to focus attention upon a college like Olivet that purposely resists this lamentable deterioration. Our goal is to make of Olivet Nazarene College one of the finest Liberal Arts Church Colleges in the nation.

The rapid progress in that direction in recent years points to the possibility of high fulfillment of this goal in the future.

Olivet Nazarene College had its origin in Georgetown, Illinois in the fall of 1907. The next year it was moved to Olivet, Illinois where it continued to grow, to expand, and to minister in the field of Christian education as a Christian college until a disastrous fire in 1939. For the past 25 years Olivet Nazarene College has been a very vital part of the Greater Kankakee Community.

From three hundred students, the college has grown to a student body of over fourteen hundred. From a campus of forty acres it has been extended to one with over one hundred and forty acres. From a faculty and staff of twenty-five it has grown to one of one hundred full-time faculty and staff members.

The college today is a strong force in our community, our state and our nation for spiritual and cultural betterment.

May it ever be so.

Support of College

Rev. D. J. Gibson is Olivet's first Vice-President in charge of Field Services and Development, coming to this pivotal position from the district superintendence in Wisconsin.

He promotes, through his office, the proper support of the college through educational budgets from the churches; he provides for and directs the recruitment of Nazarene students, trying to reach the maximum enrollment that the College can provide for; and he promotes, by his own efforts and those of his office, a strong presentation of approved building needs to churches on the zone with personal presentation for the college in every church on the Educational Zone.

Other duties include coordinating and directing the representation of the college at assemblies, conventions and youth gatherings on the Educational Zone, giving assistance to Alumni and other church-related groups as needed, and supervising all field service officials and developmental program officials.

Dr. John H. Cotner

As Dean of Students, Dr. John H. Cotner, must take care of numerous matters. He assigns each student to a faculty counselor, has general supervision of student union activities; supervises all student housing and boarding units owned by the Callege, so far as the students health and well being is concerned; and keeps complete personnel records of all students, including athletic and co-curricular activities.

Same of the nine duties of Samuel David Beeman, Assistant Dean of Instruction, are: clearing students to take late tests, clearing pre- and postholidoy absences, conductive research studies on academic programs, and assisting in vocational counseling.

Director of Admissions Norman Moore, has half that many duties but keeps just as busy maintaining a prospective student list and handling correspondence with prospective students, administering any tests directly connected with student admission, serving as foreign advisor, and assuming responsibility in student recruitment.

Miss Ruth Gilley, librarian, has been on Olivet's staff since 1939. Her days are filled with ordering library materials, supervising the accessioning, classifying, cataloging, and processing all acquisitions, and selecting and supervising student library assistants.

Charles D. Ide, Field Secretary, hos eight duties, among which are encouraging churches to free payment of their college budget, seeking endowments, annuities, gifts, wills, and life loans for the college, and seeking out, contacting, and making an effort to secure the enrollment of prospective students at Olivet. He also files with the Director of Admissions the names and addresses of these prospective students.

Head Resident Counselor for Men, Athel "Mac" McCombs, and Head Resident Counselor for Women, Emily Reeves, have twenty-three duties to perform. A few of these are ossigning rooms to students living in the campus residence halls and college-owned properties, supervising reservations for overnight guests in residence halls, seeing that all students know and conform to the college's regulations on conduct and dress, and acting on requests for weekend passes and late permits made by students living on the campus.

In this day when countries can communicate with lightning speed, it is highly important that one be able to understand not only English, but foreign languages. It is becoming apparent that genuine culture includes skill in the arts of communication and an acquaintance with the masterpieces of literature.

Learning a foreign language is becoming increasingly vital. If we are going to close the political gaps between the United States and foreign lands, it is as essential that we understand their languages and culture, as that they understand ours.

The Division of Languages and Literature aims in its instruction to "provide training in the effective use of The English language, to enlarge the cultural background of the student, and to provide experience in the interpretation of literary masterpieces."

To better understand the Christian faith it is extremely important that each student study the World of God and become acquainted with the doctrines of various Christian churches. Through this study, it is hoped, the student may be led to self-realization through a full commitment to Christ.

Although the Department is especially concerned with instructing those students going into ministry or other full time Christian work, it also strives to give each Olivetian a sound religious education. This department places emphasis on this year's theme "In the spirit—Olivet Serves" by helping prepare both lay and ministerial students for a life of Christian service in the church and community.

A perspective of human society is gained by the student of social science. He not only recalls past history, but delves into today's events. It is very important for man to understand recent and current events.

Social interactions are studied by looking into history, government, economies, and social structure. A variety of opportunities is given to students to study their own society. Visits to the state hospitals, prisons, and among certain enthnological groups are undertaken by the students under the supervision of this department.

It is man's duty to help his neighbor, but he can not do this with greatest effect unless he fully understands his society.

The Master's degree program at Olivet is relatively new, having been in operation only two years.

This past year has seen several advances in this program. Reorganization, change of titles, and alteration of requirements has made possible the offering of majors in Bible Literature and in Theology in addition to Biblical Theology.

Dr. Robert Koenker of Ball State University, Muncie, Indiana, our North Central Association Consultant, recommended the expansion of graduate offerings, which now include courses in five areas other than religion. This expansion has already resulted in an enlarged enrollment. The first Master of Arts degrees will be granted this year and, under the direction of the director Dr. Ralph Perry, further advances are anticipated.

Social

Students are gregarious and their social life is very important. Special activities are planned to make the week-ends interesting. If one of the six Greek societies isn't giving an all-school party, there are always sports events or an interesting and informative Lyceum program.

Three activities high-light the year. "Tip-Off", or Homecoming in November is always thrilling for students and alumni alike. December brings the semi-formal Christmas party, held in our own gym, beautifully transformed into a "Winter Wonderland". But the crowning evening for the students is the formal Valentine's Day Party at a Chicago restaurant. At this affair the "Sweetheart Couple" of the campus is announced.

Yes, Olivet has a wholesome, adequate social life ". . . with a Christian purpose."

Dr. Fronkl speaks to foculty members and students of the tea following his lecture.

During Olivet's school year several Lyceum programs are presented to the student body and the faculty.

The first program was a lecture presented at Olivet Nazarene College on October 3, by Dr. Charles Malik, who spoke on the "Struggle for Peace".

Dr. Malik, a former President of the United Nations and an ex-Foreign Minister of Lebanon is presently a Distinguished Professor of Philosophy at the University of Beirut in Lebanon.

On Tuesday, March 2, the second Lyceum program was presented by Dr. James C. G. Walker, Ph.D. He lectured on the subject, "The Science of our Environment". The Lecture was sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Studies in New York City.

Dr. Walker was born in Johannesburg, South Africa, and in 1956 came to Yale University on a science scholarship, where he became the president of the Yale Mountaineering Club. In 1964 he received his Ph.D. in Geophysics from Columbia.

Halloween Party . . . Monster Mash

Through the "haunted" halls of Burke Administration Hall, many brave Olivetians ventured on Saturday night, October thirty-first, to the annual Halloween party, held in the "tamb" (Recital Hall).

All guests were greeted by the ghoulish voice and fiendish smile of a grotesque usher at the door. Inside, wandered creatures of all kinds.

A ghoul announced a skit, as the first part of the program. The skit partrayed a typical "hungry" day in the life of a family of vampires.

Following this drama, the judging of the costumes took place. Prizes were awarded far the ugliest costume and for the most original.

Next, the faculty made their contribution. Professor Brown introduced Prince Poleo, in the person of Professor Swan.

Games followed, and then all of the weird characters made their way to Flierman Hall for refreshments. Here, each guest was subjected to a spooky tour through a dark room in which a part of the refreshments were given. After visiting a graveyard, the terrified students finally reached the end of the trip. At this point, while munching on an apple, each Olivetian asked himself if the night-marish evening had been worth the penalty for neglected studies. Mast agreed that they had had a thrilling time.

The bonfire was roaring, the students gathered around it, and the 1964 Homecoming Week-end was off to a start. This was on Thursday evening. Everyone was eagerly awaiting the announcement of the Queen, which was made at this time. Following the banfire, there was a reception far the Queen and her court in Miller Dining Hall, sponsored by the publishers.

Friday and Saturday afternoons were filled with luncheons, teas, and the viewing of the society exhibits.

On Saturday evening was the basketball game. Between the men's and the women's games, Queen Judy Goadman was crowned. The end of the game brought the Homecoming week-end to an end and the alumni separated for another year.

Another of the alumni favared the concert audience with a musical solo.

PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA

On March 18, Olivet was privileged to have on campus one of the foremost orchestras in the nation, the Kansas City Philharmonic. The 85-piece orchestra led by the noted director Hans Schweiger, excellently performed a program which included the overture to "Oberon" by Carl von Weber, Schubert's Symphony No. 2 in B flat, and Tschaikovsky's Symphony No. 5 in E Minor.

The orchestra appeared here while on an extended tour of the Midwest.

The Concert was sponsored by the student publications, the Aurora and the Glimmerglass, and represents the first time student organizations have underwritten a program of this magnitude.

George Frederick Handel breathed a sigh of relief as he wrate dawn the final "amen" of the Amen Chorus. Twenty-four days it had taken him to complete the music far the Messiah to be presented on April 12th, 1742 at the Munich Hall in Dublin. The servant who staad at his side was to remember the day—tears streamed dawn Handel's face. He remembered Handel's explanation—"I did see all Heaven before me, and the great God Himself!"

Many felt this same inspiration when they attended the thirtieth annual presentation of Handel's Messiah in College Church directed by Mrs. Naomi Larsen and performed by the Oratorio Charus, the Olivet Symphony, and various soloists.

Valentines Party

The annual Valentine Party called "An Evening in Paris," was held February 12, 1965, at Jacque's French Restaurant in Chicago. It was planned by the Sacial Committee under the supervision of Miss Carol Sloan, chairman.

Eighty-nine couples attended the formal party. They enjoyed prime roast of beef in the enchanting atmosphere of an inside garden complete with a fountain.

Ovid Young and Dave Anderson, two Olivet graduates provided delightful entertainment. Mr. Young supplied the beautiful dinner music and several entertaining readings were done by Mr. Anderson.

Far the first time in Olivet's history, a couple was selected to reign as "Sweethearts" of the Valentine Party. Their names were drawn from five cauples who were vated an the week preceding the party. The couple was Ed Nash and Judy Gaadman. Members of the "Sweetheart Court" included: Paul Zoroya and Carol Sloan; Larry Watson and Linda McKinney; Danny Salisbury and Terry Bryan; and Jim Sirrine and Carol Stout.

What an unforgettable evening! This is especially true for the five couples who announced their engagements. All who attended shall never forget the time they spent "An Evening in Paris."

The Intramural Council is the group that organized and ca-ordinates the intramural activities throughout the year. The council is responsible for averseeing the entire intramural program. Other duties include purchasing of supplies and equipment, jurisdicting of the recreational facilities, programming intramural events, and the recording of saciety points to see which society will win the caveted President's Traphy at the end of the year.

The Council is composed of the presidents of each society, the President of the student bady, the chairmen of the departments of Physical Education, Speech, and Fine Arts, and the Dean of Students. The Dean of the College and the College President are ex-officio members of the Council.

An innovation that was tried this year was replacing the music-literary contests of former years with "society nights." Each society had one night during the year to provide the student body with entertainment. These programs seemed to meet with the approval of the students.

Intramural Participation

Olivet's intramural program is dependent upon the fine planning and directing of the three fine coaches: Ward, Crandall, and Donaho. It is necessary that they contact the officials for each contest and exert control over the contest

With the fine training each has they are many times called upon to repair the usual injuries to athletes.

The intramural program is greatly indebted to the fine leadership and example that these three individuals set forth.

The Bobcats, made up of freshmen and juniors, playing under Coach Ward, had a rough and tumble season. Standauts in the offensive line-up included quarterback Ed Nash, halfback Vernon Prior, end Bab Isenhaur, and tackle Walt Pawell.

In the first game, the Bobcats fought to an 0-0 tie but led in total affense. Although the Bobcats lost the second game 8-0, they came back fired up to wallop the Bulldags 28-13 in the third game of the season.

In the final game, the game that would break the tie between the two teams, all the players were sky-high with excitement, and the stage was set for a real fine game. As a capacity crowd of Alumni and students watched, the two teams put together one of the finest games in Olivet history. With the Bulldags hitting paydirt first, the Bobcats really had their work cut out for them. Final scare: Bulldags 14, Bobcats 0.

Societies Promote Participation

There is spirited competition between the six societies on the ONC campus in many areas. In the fall, homecoming displays from each society are judged according to originality, construction, theme, and night-and-day attraction. The judges add total points in these categories before awarding the President's Cup.

But athletic events spark greatest enthusiasm. Sports draw the society together, in cheering and participation. To win a championship in softball, basketball baseball and track means a lat to the competitors because the championship is important not only for the individual, but for the society as well. Points made by winners in individual sports such as ping-pong, golf, and cross country also count toward the winning of the Presidents Cup. Competition is wholesome and draws enthusiastic and exuberant reactions from students supporting their society. The teams give glory to God in each of these activities by bowing in prayer before each event. The standards of sportsmanship are kept high by this Christian attitude as well as by the official referees from the Illinois Interscholastic Athletic Association. ONC builds a rugged trail for the athlete but the prospect of reward stimulates the effort of all.

For the standout athlete there is prestige in making one of the all-star teams. The individual high scorer in track is awarded a trophy and for each event there is first, second, and third place ribbons. Each athlete that is able to succeed in varsity football receives points for their individual societies. The top honor for the outstanding athlete is the "O" Club. Only all-stars are admitted and they receive a letterman's "O" to display on a jacket or sweater. "O" Club activities include banquets, sports films (World Series, Indianapolis 500, etc.) and a basketball game against the alumni during homecoming. The character building influence of winning as well as defeat, the high class of competition, the Christian sportsmanship all go to make up the most worthwhile and rewarding activity.

A look at the won and lost columns reveals that Beta's softball season ended quite unsuccessfully, even though this was a rebuilding year. More freshmen played for Beta than for any other society; many were playing new positions and facing a type of pitching new to them. Player-coach Larry Watson needs an exceptionally good pitcher to complete an excellent battery. John Shampier, his sophomore catcher, was elected to the all-star team. If Beta can produce a good pitcher, they should be back in the running for years to come.

They were hurt by inexperienced players and bad breaks in general, but Coach Larry Watson did a good job in organizing his team and utilizing the returning starters, Pete Henry and Ed Wilcox. They were greatly assisted in the second round by center Larry Spaulding who gave Beta a big boost in morale, rebounding, play making, and scoring. Two new freshmen, Rich Harding and Barry Cunningham should come around next year and help in Beta's rebuilding efforts.

Men Take Third

The Delta Society softball team finished all even this year. Delta perked up and won the last three games to finish with a five-five record. Player-coach Lee Mikesell, Ron Owens, and pitcher, Jim Williams were the leading players. Delta baasted anly two seniors, so they should be a strong team next year. One of the seniors, Jim Williams, was elected to the all-star team. He was four for four in botting in the last game of the season and was the leading hitter all season, while pitching same fine games.

Climax of the season for Delta came when they maved from behind in a crucial game against Gamma to tie the game and later to a win.

The Green and White for '65 was Delta Society. From the pre-basketball season on Delta was a constant threat to all competitors for first place. They were led by the drive, fight, hustle, and scoring of all-stars Jim Williams and Ed Nash to a wellearned second place. Also, not honored, but deserving, are Ron Owens and Fred Raske who not only added the points but took more than their share of rebounds. Delta, almost defeating first place Zeta, in round one, was the only team to beat them. This happened in the second round and the Delta team came through as the winner. Delta ended the season under the challenging coaching of Roger Rupp with a record of 6 and 4. We can expect much from this team next year.

Gamma Saciety, although fielding a young team, made a very cammendable shawing this year. The team finished the seasan with a record of six wins and faur losses, which put them in a second place tie with Kappa. In the twa games between the secand place finishers Gamma came out an tap, beating Kappa in bath cantests.

Individually, the Gamma players shawed up very strang also. Two af them did very autstanding jabs and were rewarded by a berth on the allstar team. Ray Williams, the hard hitting third baseman, was one af Gamma's fine players to make the all-stars. Ray's batting average was over .500, highest in the league. Ken Armstrang, playing first base, made the all-stars because of his consistently good play at his position.

Two athers who played autstanding ball for Gamma were Kemo Smith and J. D. Hatten. Kemo was a very good pitcher, throwing a lot of curves and tricky pitches that were quite difficult to hit. J. D. played at shartshop and did a fine job all year long.

Kappa opened the season with a 13-7 victory over Sigma. However, that 13 proved to be bad luck because the next three games were lasses to Zeta (5-0), Beta (9-1) and Delta (4-2) in that order. Craig Meyers showed some consistent pitching but the hitters were not coming though. Then, with Meyers striking out 14, the Kats shut out Gamma, 3-0. Sigma, Beta, and Delta were next to fall, fallowed by a slight let up to allow Gamma to gain revenge. Nevertheless, the climax was yet to come. The desire of every ball club is to beat the undefeated champianship team of last season especially when it is the first place team of the current season. A wellplayed game was decided in the last half of the last inning. Meyers again was the deciding factor striking out 12 Zeta batsmen. Kappa ended the season with a 6-4 record, good for a tie for second place with Gamma.

At times the defense was sloppy; several errors were committed unearned runs allowed, and the hitting was spotty, but the slugging of Jim Smock, Steve Sidle, and Craig Meyers was a bright spot. Displaying finer cantral and an almost impossible to hit "rue ball," Meyers struck out 95 men in 10 games. The playing coach Stan Randolph did a fine job, too.

The Sigma basketball team under the leadership of Caach Bob Simmons ended their season with a record of 2 wins and 8 losses, earning last berth in the society standings. Sigma had a heartbreaking year, lasing all but 2 games by less than 10 points.

In the '63-'64 season, Sigma had a recard of 8 wins and 2 losses. A reversal far this hard fighting team led by Ron Deal and Al Marse, who were picked as All-stars may be attributed to many graduating seniors. Many fine efforts by Randy Good and Mel Burland, added to the hustle of Sigma men.

Sigma received first honors with an undefeated season. Although they had several returning letter women, help came from some very good freshmen. They showed very good team organization in every game.

The team had both spirit and the will to go all the way. Of course the fine playing of Linda Kimmons and Judy Wilson helped quite a bit. Altogether they had a very good seasan and are looking forward to another one next year.

They were assisted under the boards by a hefty Chuck Cremeans and steady scoring freshman, Brian Fischer. The 1964 Alumni Basketball team was one of its tallest and most powerful ever. The 1964 "O" Club, after losing last year's classic, introduced one of the fastest and best-shooting ball clubs in the history of the Homecoming game.

The game was played at the Kankakee High School Gymnasium before a capacity crowd. From the opening tipoff, action never slowed for a breather. Coach Hanson had a large team and kept fresh players in at all times. Nevertheless, Coach Ward's "O" Club, with a new five for every quarter, worked away to a comfortable lead, never to be threatened after the first five minutes of play. At times there was a fine display of outside shooting by the Alumni but twelve determined "O" Club boys worked the ball for some good clear shots and kept ahead.

At the final buzzer, the "O" Club had assured itself sweet revenge for their last year's defeat, and set a Homecoming Tip-Off scoring record as they downed the Alumni 119 to 75. DESIRE spelled VIC-TORY as the Tigers shot 56% from the field. Two very hothanded sophomores led the scoring: Ed Bowman, a forward, poured in 21 points, mainly from the outside and speedy guard Bill Ulmet chalked up 17. Other Tigers to score in double figures were as follows: senior, Ron Deal who missed only one shot in the first half, added 16; hard-fighting Pete Henry, a senior center, popped in 14 and rugged Jim Williams, also a senior, banged in 13 from his forward position. Well-deserved congratulations are extended to a proud "O" Club, and their Coach C. W. Ward.

A confident Sophomore class romped to a three gome championship for the second year in a row. After two years of closs competition this fine group of real basketboll players are undefeated. Nick-nomed the "Saints of '67", they picked former student Bob Starcher os their coach.

In the first game they rolled over the Freshmen 61-43, with the second string playing most of the second holf. Outside shooting guards Bill Ulmet and Ed Bowman led all scorers with 16 and 14 points respectively. Ray Williams picked off 19 rebounds in the first 3 quarters.

After such a rousing start the Juniors, in the second game gave the Saints quite a scare. However, a strong third quarter put them back in the game and a steady fourth quarter sow them through the storm to win 63-55. Again Bill Ulmet rippled the nets for 16, followed by Joe Lopez and Wayne Droke with 14 and 12. Williams, Lopez and especially Droke in the second half, led in the rebound department.

The championship game again ogoinst the Juniors wasn't especially close. To say they were hot would be an understatement,—they hit 24 out of 35 from the field to win 68-60. Four men hit the double figure column. Joe Lopez was high with 18, Ed Bowman 16, Bill Ulmet 14 and Ray Williams, 12. Congratulations to coach Starcher and a great Class of '67.

Vie for the Honors . . .

The Seniar class, competing in the final class tournament of their college career were forced to buck up against some fine shooting by the enthused Juniors, in their first contest. The Seniors matched their experience against enthusiasm and competition was fierce Shot was matched against shot forcing the game into overtime. The Seniors finally had to accept the hord-to-toke score with a loss of 54-51.

As if to refute the results of the previous game the Seniors fought and finally smashed the Frosh to a 60-39 defeat with two Seniors hitting in double figures.

Despite their close loss this year to put them out of the tournament, the Seniors have won the tournament previously. Congratulations to the Seniors for their fine four years of sparkling competition.

In the first game the Juniors were forced to display their mony talents. The Seniors pressed and pressed and the Juniors were up, to make the big show when necessary. The Juniors showed their versatility and shooting ability by ultimately defeating the Seniors, 54-51, Pete Henry put in 20 points to lead all scorers.

In the semi-final game the Juniors met another tough foe yet could not get up for this one. But because of their fine play they were destined to meet this team again.

Because of the construction of a double-elimination tournament the Juniors met the Seniors again, this time winning 63-55.

Next the Juniors were to meet their previous rivals. Spirits were high and the Juniors were willing to scramble for this one. They did, the boards were cleared, the floor play superb, but the nets were closed. The Juniors were unable to hit ond the Sophomores proved to be the consistent victors 68-60. Ron Deal tried to inspire the team by sinking the high 22 points for the tourney but seemed to be the only player hitting. The Juniors will be looking for a victory next year with fervor.

The Student Council has jurisdiction over all activities and organizations within the Associated Students. As representatives, the members of this group not only held regular semi-monthly meetings, but also sponsored numerous activities for and by the students.

A Political Awareness Week, and daily dining-hall news bulletin, the annual faculty-student workshop, and planning for the Nazarene Student Leadership Conference here were features of the forward-looking program of the Council. In oddition, the giving of Christmas baskets to needy families and the sponsorship of the Red Cross Blood drive gave the Council avenues for service to the Kankakee community.

In May af 1964, the ideas and plans for yaur annual were just materializing in the mind of the newly elected editar. As the summer months sped on, many of these ideas found themselves on paper. Organization was the keynate in all the planning. As school started, a staff was formed and section editors chasen. The first day af classes found the executive cammittee and advisar meeting with the representative af the Durand Caver Company for initial decisions as to the cover. As the year pragressed, pictures were taken, and capy was written. The Missionary Band on Olivet's campus is aimed at giving special assistance to those students planning to enter full-time Christian service and providing a way for others to do the same.

Each year Missionary Band sponsors a World Missions project. This year they undertook the raising of $3000 to help open Nazarene mission work in Stockholm, Sweden. Students and faculty alike joined together in weekly offerings to make this project a success. The check presented at the end of the year represented the realization of success in this great endeavor.

In October, Rev. Earl Morgan, missionary to Lebanon, spoke at a three day Missionary Workshop sponsored by the Missionary Band. Thus, through special projects and programs, Missionary Band seeks to create and maintain a strong missionary emphasis on the campus of O.N.C.

Students have an opportunity ta participate in pertinent activities and programs, dealing with teaching fields, through the largest and most active club on campus, Student Education Association. (S.E.A.) A project to provide tutoring, service at Hopkins Pork, to culturally deprived children was the club's main activity this year. Tutoring was pravided in subjects in which the children were deficient and club members carried out the chapter's motto, "Learning through doing." Other activities included a tea honoring faculty, staff, and administration during National Education Week, a Student Teaching Workshop and banquet, and trips to the Illinois Education Association Conventions in November and May.

Socialogy Club afficers plan activities for one of the largest compusclubs.

Not all people on this earth are blessed with even barest necessities. Realizing this, the Sociology Club at Olivet has aimed to inform the student body as to how the less fartunate live and to create a spirit of helpfulness and understanding within each student. It is the Club's desire that Christians prepare themselves for better service to their fellow man.

This year the club made two field trips, one to Chicago and another to Jaliet to tour the State Penitentiary. The Sociology Club also participated in a voluntary service program once a month at the Kankakee State Hospital.

The event that made the biggest impression upon the Club members was the October visit to the missions and social agencies in Chicago. Each group visited places of interest such as the Harbar Lights Mission, The Pacific Garden Missian, The Maxwell Street Market, China Town, Museum of Natural History, The Christian Teen Center for Delinquents, the University of Chicago Rackefeller Church, and the Gaspel League Hame.

Young Democrats

Young Demos find sporce backing.

The Young Democrats was a newly formed club on Olivet's campus this year. Shortly after organization, the club sponsored as speaker, Mr. Jack Beaupre, present Clerk of County Courts and also the film, "Mr. Speaker" which starred Mr. Paul Powell, Speaker of the Illinois House. The club supported the Democratic Party's platform and candidate in the 1964 Presidential election campaign and also held a "Victory Celebration" after the election. During the second semester, members visited the state capital in Springfield, Illinois, where they attended the proceedings of a typical day at the sect of the state government.

The aims of the Young Democrat's club are expressed in their by-laws which state, "The purpose of this organization shall be: To stimulate in young college people an active interest in governmental affairs; to increase the efficiency of popular government; to perpetuate the ideals and principles of the Democratic Party; to attract new members to the Democratic Party; to help acquaint voters and potential voters with the issues and the candidates; and to promote by our efforts the highest degree of justice, social welfare, and happiness." Through this purpose the club is attempting to stimulate political interest on campus and to achieve equal presentation of two views to political issues and candidates.

The Associated Married Students is composed of 150 members. They have sponsared two activities this year. There was a pot-luck supper which was held at the beginning of the year as a getting-acquainted activity, and a recreational party held in the gym during March. The arganization has three main purposes. One is to represent to the associated students and administration through their two cauncil representatives, the views and opinions of the married students; another is to keep the married students informed as to campus events; and the third is to hold activities for the married students.

Association of International Students Friendship through Understanding

Fareign Students provide many student activities af interest.

The Association of International Students is aimed at promoting better relations between International and American students. With "Friendship through understanding," as their motto, they have been responsible for such activities as a Get-Acquainted party, International Sunday, International Conferences, panel discussions, and parties such as the Hawaiian Luau and the Sukiyaki Feast. The club's main event of the year was the International Banquet which featured a foreign menu and program.

Oral and #### Communication Skills

Speaking is an everyday necessity, and Olivet's Speech Club has purposed to promote skill in public speaking, reading interpretation, and dramatics, as well as, to develop a greater general interest in these activities throughout the campus. Activities sponsored by the Speech Club this year helped to carry out this purpose. These activities were a discussion on poverty with Greenville Callege students; a Drama-Rama night; speech contest; and an all-school play. The school play was the most ambitious project of the year, but the result was well worth all the extra work and effort.

T.V. viewing of election returns was provided by the Public Affairs Club in Recital Hall.

The Public Affairs Club, under the able leadership of President Dennis Kent, Vice-President David Lampton, and Secretory-Treasurer Vivian Felix, proved to be among the more successful clubs on Olivet's campus. The program of informative and beneficial activities sponsored by this organization is to a large extent responsible for increased student interest in the political and social sciences.

The club and its members were active in the affairs of the Political Awareness Week, including the Political Forum and Mock Election; and it sponsored the Election Returns Party.

In coordination with the Book-of-the-Semester Plan, the Public Affairs Club presented two enlightening programs, the first being a discussion of "Poverty in Kankakee County" by a distinguished panel. The second, a lecture by Dr. Jord DeVille, was a critical evaluation of Dr. Viktor Frankl's theories of psychotherapy.

Among other activities, the club sent delegates to the Purdue Conference on International Affairs, conducted student public opinion polls, and held discussions on current events. Other activities included an outside speaker and a picnic in the Spring.

Probes the Four Fields

of Natural Science

Science is very important in the space-conscious age today, and Olivet's Science Club strives to promote interest and appreciation in the various fields of science endeavors. This year the club's most important event was their annual breakfost at which a special speaker in science was the main guest. Specifically Science Club provides an opportunity for science students to become acquainted with their special fields of interest in an outside-of-classroom atmosphere.

It is the Ministerial Fellowship's purpose to promote understanding, friendship, and fellowship among future fulltime Christian workers. With this in mind, this club has sponsored many interesting and valuable activities, such as the Rothwell lecture and dinner, C. William Fisher lecture and breakfast, and the practical lecture on service to the poor by Rev. R. B. Lehman. Other activities included an Insurance Seminar conducted by Dr. L. C. Mitten, a midwinter Ministerial Fellowship roundup and an annual spring banquet.

The highlight of the year for Ministerial Fellowship members was the observation tour to the Church of the Nazarene's Headquarters in Kansas City, Missouri. The tour provided an apportunity for members to examine the facilities and operations of their denomination in action. Through their varied program, Ministerial Fellowship helped the student body of Olivet to become better acquainted with the Ministerial students and their work.

Intellectual Challenge

and Rebuttal

One of the most important speech activities at Olivet is debating. Through debate, Olivetians are given the opportunity to gain poise in speaking, experience in researching and presenting evidence, and skill in argumentation and clear thinking by meeting debaters from other mid-western colleges and universities in various tournaments throughout Illinois and Indiana.

This year two Olivetians, Duane Clinker and Gary Lust, along with Professor Mac C. Combs, made an unprecedented tour to Bethany and Trevecca Nazarene Colleges. The year was also highlighted by debates on campus with Trevecca Nazarene College and Harvard University.

Olivet's debate team finished with the best record of recent years.

Reactivated from an organization existing in 1918, the IPA has provided many activities of interest to the student body. Though its size is small, it is almost assured that greater student porticipation will come in future years. A field trip to the Joliet Prison was planned and enjoyed by all club members. The main function of the club is to stimulate intellectual pursuits among its members through coffee cup debates and informal discussions of topics of major interest. The IPA tokes a major interest in student government and encourages active participation of all of its members. One identifying characteristic of the members of the club is their firm belief in equality of monkind and their brotherhood under God. No officers were elected in this the first year as a tribute to total equality.

Home Economics plon for the future of one of their meetings.

"Service to others today and tomorrow," is the motto of the Home Economics Club. The club provided service to others through their Alumni Tea at Homecoming, the International Students Tea, frequent bake sales, and Christmas cheer for a nursing home and an orphanage.

In December, a state convention was held at the University of Illinois in Urbana and Miss Karen Stevens, treasurer of the local club, was made chairman-elect of the College Chapter of the Illinois Home Economics Association. Also honored from the club was Miss Sharon McLain who was made secretary-elect of the same association.

The main purpose of the Sigma Tau Delto is to encourage the reading of good literature and to foster creative writing. Members of the club enjoyed such activities as the sponsorship of a literary exhibit in the Spring, porticipation in the Fine Arts Day, viewing of Dr. C. S. McClain's slides of Europe, and attending the performance of a Shakespearean play which proved to be the highlight of the year. Members were given the opportunity to see on stage o Shokespearean drama they had studied.

Radio Club Newly Organized

Members of Amoteur Radio Club examine equipment to moke sure everything is in working order.

The Amateur Radio Club claims to be, "The Most Radio-Active club on campus," and it is! This past year club members built a radio shack in the southwest corner of Birchard Field House, visited a meeting of the Kankakee area's Radio Society, and conducted classes in Morse Code and Radio Theory. The establishment of their own club station was the most important event of the year. Amateur Radio Club supplies each member with a fascinating hobby and the opportunity to communicate with other ham radio aperators around the world.

The purpose of the student group, known to most as the Pre-Med Club, is to create a greater interest in the field of medicine among those students who are seriously considering a profession in this same line. To ochieve this purpose, the thirty-three members of the club have seen several films and have made field trips to inspect several nearby hospitals. The club is looking forward to many more successful years.

Students planning for a career in medicine find the pre medicat club a very useful club on Olivet's campus.

Music Organizations

"Sing unto him a new song" is the theme of Olivet's music department. The faculty and students of the Division of Fine Arts combine their efforts to make this division one of the finest at OIivet. Not only do they add to the cultural advancement of the student body, but also to the religious atmosphere. The three choirs, the band, and the archestra are all contributing factors by providing the music for chapel and college church and by presenting numerous recitals, concerts, and various oratorical works. Under the direction and guidance of the music professors, the students enjoy providing "A Ministry in Music''.

"Melodies in Brass"

A typical rehearsal of the Bross Choir

Guide: Page 190 Copy A

The Brass Choir is a unique organization in that it is one of the smallest ensembles on campus, yet one of the brightest in sound. The individuals of Brass Choir, twelve in number, are impressed to join their instruments and hearts together in playing and witnessing to the glory of God. Brass Choir has been placed under the superb direction and arrangement of Professor John Rosfeld. Under his guidonce, several chapel programs plus a young people's program has been performed with wonderful success. With God as the center of the ensemble and Jesus Christ the center of the individuals of Brass Choir, they raise the sounds of PRAISES IN BRASS.

Olivet's Concert Band strives each year to be an outlet for musical talents; to help raise the cultural level on campus, and to promote instrumental ensembles. The club filled their calendar this year by performing for such activities as October and February invosions, Senior Day, Homecoming, Winter and Spring concerts, and by ploying at an all school Ice Cream Social and for a local high school assembly. The tour in March was a highlight of the year along with the annual banquet. The concert band's final performance was at the June Commencement exercises.

Ralph Reader added a musical background to the Music Educators' booth during Club Day activities.

Music Educators Club affords students with an opportunity far professional orientation and development in the field of music. Each year Olivet students may enjoy the musical activities sponsored by this club. This year, a cancert featuring "Music of the Other Americas" was presented. Also, the club enjoyed trips to the University of Illinois for a concert; to Chicago for a performance of the opera Dan Carlos; and to see a musical drama. A film from Interlochen was another feature of the year.

The most outstanding activity was a trip to Chicago to hear the Chicaga Symphony Orchestra perform and to dinner afterwards. The voried activities of this club provide interesting musical programs for all O.N.C. students and especially benefit members interested in teaching music.

Now Sing We Joyfully unto God

Viking Male Chorus, under the direction of Donald R. Murray, has no greater thrill than spreading the gospel to those for whom they sing. Vikings sang in Michigan and Indiana on their annual tour. Other activities included invasions to Indianapolis, Indiana and Grand Rapids, Michigan, numerous performances in the Kankakee area, and various campus presentations. A special treat for the chair was sharing a concert with Robert Hale at Chicago First Church of the Nazarene. They enjoyed a wonderful banquet this spring and a special retreat at the start of the school year. Viking Male Chorus enjoys the task of fulfilling its motto "For Thee We Sing".

"A Ministry in Music"

Mrs. Larsen directs Orpheus chair in an inspiring chapel presentation.

Orpheus choir followed a full schedule this year with ten concerts, two invasion tours, and several social activities. In all, Orpheus made twenty-five appearances.

The choir participated in the Homecoming concert, Senior Day concert, the Messiah presentation, the Spring concert, commencement concert and commencement exercises. Besides concerts, the choir made seven appearances at College Church, sang for the silver anniversary celebration of Konkakee, Ilinois, First Church, porticipated in two chapel programs and toured through Illinois, Wisconsin and lowa.

In November, Orpheus traveled to Portsmouth, Ohio on invasion; in February they toured in Racine, Wisconsin; in the summer of 1964, the choir represented Olivet at the General Assembly of the Church of the Nazarene in Portland, Oregon.

Social activities sponsored by the choir for members included a fall hayride, a Christmas banquet and a formal spring banquet. The members also conducted their own manthly prayer meetings.

A credit to Olivet's Fine Arts Department is the organization knawn as the Orpheus Choir. This select group of fifty-two vocalists devote much extra time to upholding a high musical standard. Orpheus provides, for qualified Olivetians, an outlet for religious expression and affords an opportunity to sing in a mixed choir.

Among the many activities of Orpheus Choir this year, the Homecoming Concert, choir tour, Spring Concert, and Orpheus banquet were the most outstanding. This year, as usual, the choir members looked forward to the tour during which they visited numerous churches and through their "Ministry in Music," promoted the college and it's program.

"Solely to the glory of God," is the motto of the Gale Organ Guild which strives to advonce the cause of worthy religious music and to elevate the status of church musicians. This year the club sponsored the Edward Mundello Concert, field trips to Wheaton and Northwest Universities, the Hamecoming Vesper Service, and the afficer inductian banquet. A milestone accomplishment for the Organ Guild was their recent acceptance as an official chapter of the American Guild of Organists.

The Handbell Choir has performed for many church services and at many schools.

Carrying the Message of a Song

I. to r. J. Davidson, M. Jones, J. Burgess

During the summer months, several singing groups from Olivet are busy traveling across the educational zone representing the school.

This summer Olivet will be represented by the Olivetians and a new girl's trio, the Melodyaires.

They will be touring Indiana, Illinois, and Ohio. The Melodyaires will be singing mostly in the churches, while the Olivetians will tour the camps and conventions across the districts.

The Test of Quality ...

The highlight of the year for a Senior music major is his senior recital. It is then that friends and family enjoy the fruits of four years of hard study. The music major is required to give this performance as partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Bachelor of Science degree in Music Education. The student of music begins building repertoire early in his school career, so that on the night of his recital he is able to perform music from many periods and of varied types.

For the Seniors, this last year has gone by very quickly. As they look back over their Senior year, they see a full year of many activities and much excitement.

One of the first activities of the Senior class was the Senior Retreat held in September. They sponsored two all-school parties during the year, and had other activities including the Junior-Senior Banquet and the Senior Trip. Also their Senior gift presentation was held in June.

Last, but certainly not least, was graduation day, when the Seniors received their diplomas and said, "Good - bye" to Olivet. They went from Olivet into the world to begin their careers, for which they have been preparing at Olivet.

The close of the Senior year at Olivet is a sad time. Many of the graduates most memorable experiences took place during their stay at college. Yet, it is also a very happy time because they can begin to make their dreams for the future come true.

The Junior Class is probably the busiest class on Olivet's campus. They have been active all year sponsoring or participating in this and that.

In October, the Juniors had their retreat at Turkey Run State Park. The also had charge of the annual Halloween Party entitled, "The Monster Mash." This turned out to be a real success. Two all-school parties were spansored by the Junior Class, and two class parties were given to the Juniors by the Senior Class. The Junior Class participated in and enjoyed the Junior-Senior Banquet. Ushers, Usherettes, and the arrangement of flowers were provided by the Junior Class for Commencement.

This has been a very profitable and eventful year for the Juniors, one they have all enjoyed. They are now looking forward with expectancy to their last year at Olivet, confident it will be their best.

The Sophomore class has enjoyed a year full of activities and fun, along with much hard work. This has been the first year that the Sophomores have felt a definite part of the college right from the beginning of the year.

Included in their activities were the breakfast and lunch "FunDay" at the State Park, and a weiner roast. In November, the Sophomores hod a "slide party" for the student body, showing 175 color slides on the humorous aspects of school life, and during the year, had several parties for their own class. They enjoyed participating enthusiastically in the class basketball tournament, as well as sponsoring on all-school "Kintaeb-Hsab" porty. Other sophomore activities included a program of religious music and a semi-formal banquet far members of the class.

After this very active and enjoyoble year, the members of the Sophomore closs are looking forward, with great expectation, to their third year at Olivet.

After a year of hectic living, and of adjusting to college life, the Freshman are finally beginning to feel at home and a part of Olivet Nazarene College.

This first year has been full of activities. The Freshman class was responsible for the arrangement and clean-up for the Halloween and Christmas parties. A large number turned out to help and these clean-ups were enjoyed by all who participated.

The Freshman class was also responsible for an all-school social event. In December, it presented a play centered around a Christmas theme.

Also, the class enjoyed a party during the year—a hootenany, which proved to be very profitable.

In the Spring, a party was given for the Sophomores by the Freshman Class.

For some, this year has been hard; for some, not so hard; but for all, fun. The class is now anxiously awaiting its Sophomore year when it will be even more a part of Olivet.

Epilogue

An epilogue is somewhat like an epitaph particularly in their similar degree of finality. Not only do they both bespeak completion but they both have a backward look—a remembering of things—of people that have passed (to—?)

In retrospect this is a yearbook that has used a combination of people, their ideos, their work, and their creativity. To the photographers, we must pay a tribute; to Roy McCorkle a port-time student who offered a multitude of ideas and endless hours; to Jae York an ardent staff photographer for several years; to Dovid Sorrel who came through many times with just the right shat we needed; and lastly to Professor D. J. Strickler who is aur advisor and photography expert. Without "Prof" 's unending hours in the darkroom, we would not have realized our goal of a 1965 AURORA.

Yet these men are not the only ones that have devoted their time and energy to "a bigger and better book". Men like Bob Merriman of Durand Cover Company who willingly drove 70 miles to sit in on a cover-session; men like Tony Razaitis of Interstate Printers and Publishers who spent literally days in planning and editing with our staff. Yet these are not all that made our book possible. Without the "homefront backing" of Mrs. Corbett, Mrs. Isenberg, as well as the many office secretaries, janitars, and other staff members, our book could not be a reality.

Last of all, the staff members themselves. . . . If there were one person I would not part with as a member of the staff, it would be Connie Dobson. Undoubtedly, she has done more work than all of us put tagether. The various section editors did more than their share also, Theressa Houchin, Ed Bowman, Nancy Culp, and Wanda Hanes. Ed Converse capably handled the business for the AURORA this year. In spite of the fact that we cut our page allocation for ads, he contributed his section and then worked with various other sections to help with the last minute completions. Ed is a tremendous person with whom to work.

Our picture, illustrative of a closing day, can be analogized to the close of a yearbook. The setting of our picture is a familiar sight of dignity yet intimacy—and in this manner daes our last page conclude. You have viewed Olivet Nazarene College on the preceding pages, its dignity and warmth, its beauty and purity, and as you leave it, we hope that this same atmosphere of "Education with a Christian Purpose" has permeated your very soul as it has ours, leaving its indelible mark, a distinctively Christian mark, an every word, thought and deed.
